

Lesson 8: Journal

What is my experience of cooperating with the infinite?

How might I use the understanding that “for ego there is no higher Self” to assist me with surrendering into divine support?

What role does faith play in my life?

Is it possible for me to accept things the way they are? What does that require of me? What are my concerns, if any, about doing that?